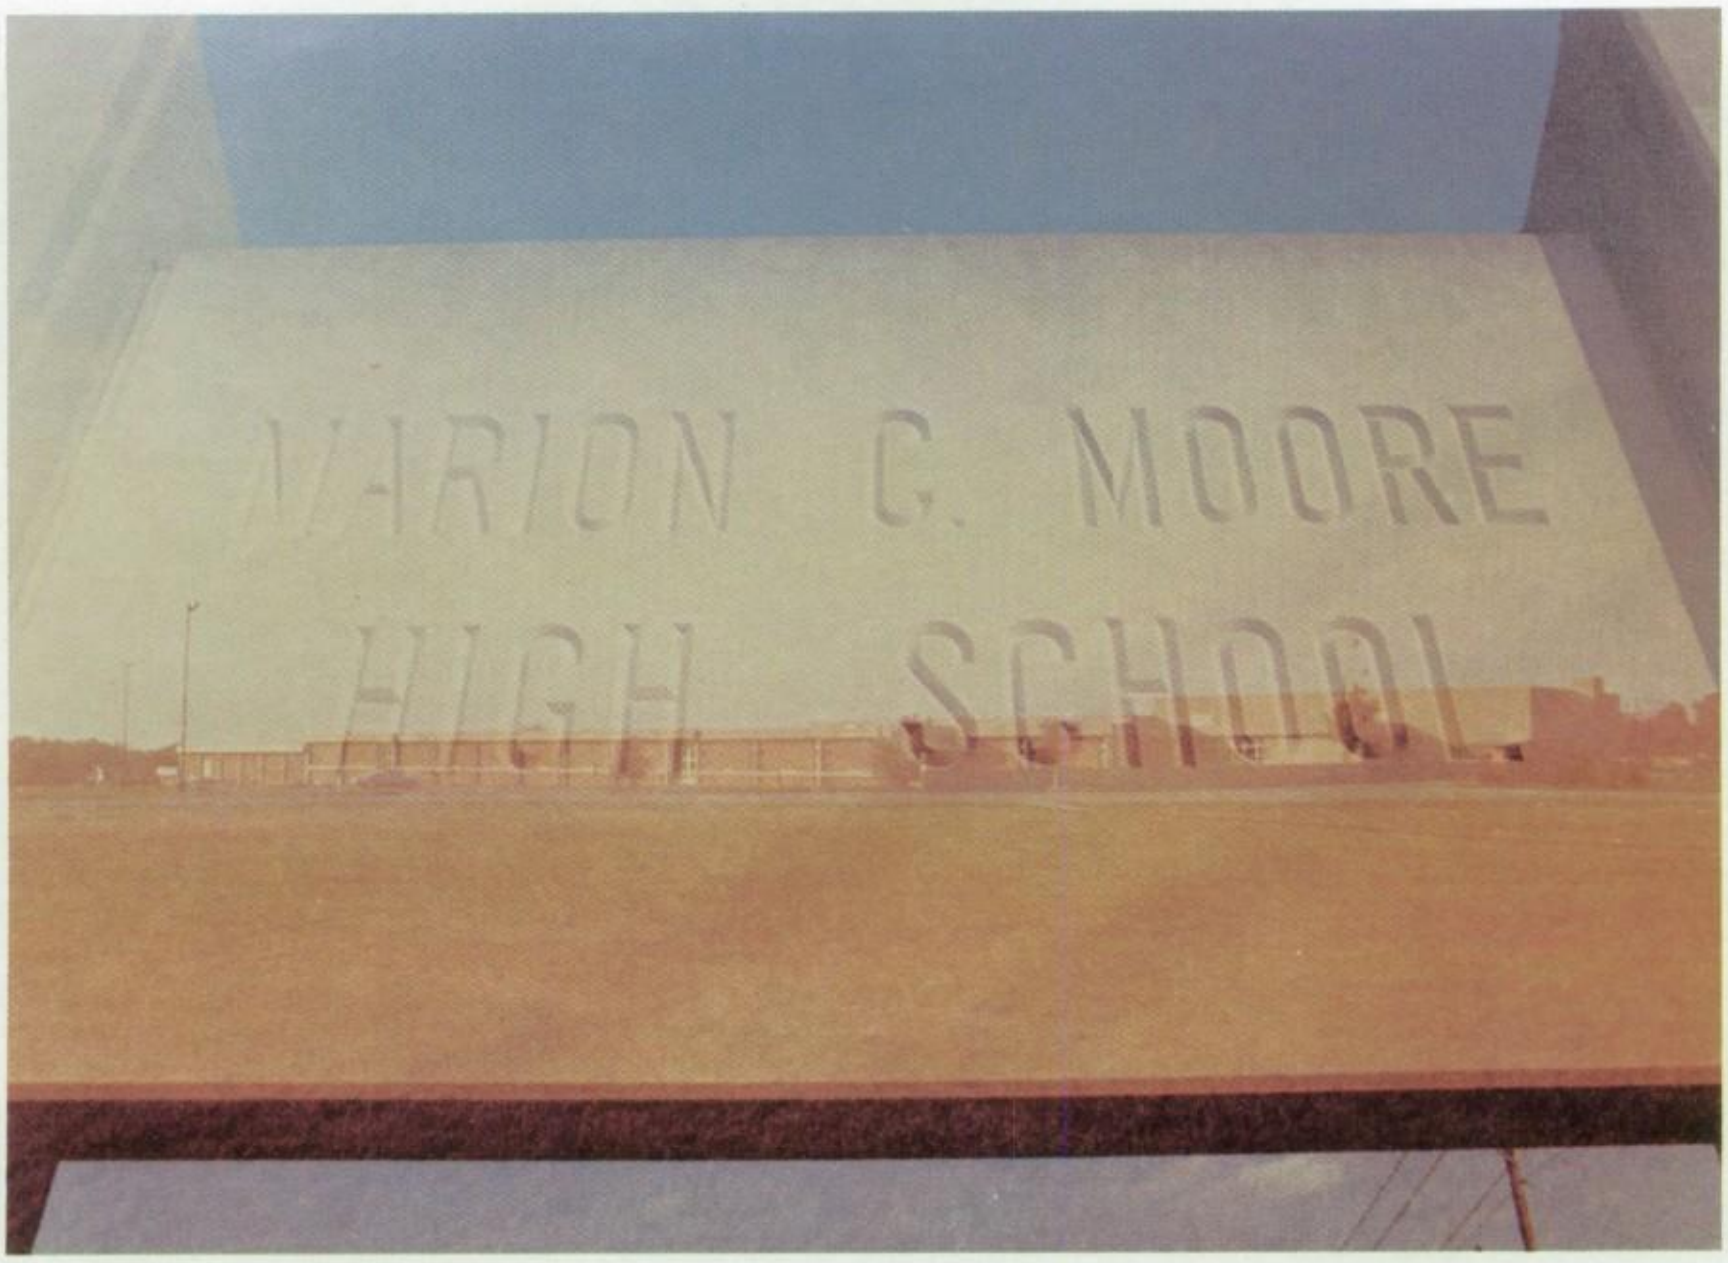
SAGA 1980



Marion C. Moore High School
Louisville, Kentucky

Volume Twelve

Rebecca R. Walden - Editor
Gary A. Watson - Sponsor

No student shall be denied equal educational opportunity by the Board of Education because of his or her age, color, handicap, marital status, national origin, race, religion, sex, or veteran status.

The 1980 SAGA staff would like to introduce the twelfth volume of the SAGA to Moore High School. This year's theme is "Thoroughbreds", and we have tried to capture this theme throughout this year's edition. Since we felt that everyone involved in Moore High School is in every way a thoroughbred, we present the 1980 SAGA to you.

tho' ough-bred (thur'-o-bred), adj. 1. thoroughly trained or skilled. 2. bred from the best blood, through a long line; pure-blooded. 3. having characteristics of a Thoroughbred, as grace, elegance, high-spiritedness.

-Webster's New Collegiate Dictionary

Stop and consider the wondrous works of God.
Job 37:14

I have fought the fight, I have finished the race, I have kept the faith.
2 Timothy 4:7

Don't let anyone think little of you because you are young. Be their ideal; let them follow the way you teach and live.
I Timothy 4:12

Since earliest times men have seen the earth and sky and all God made.
Romans 1:20

Now faith is the substance of things hoped for and the evidence of things not seen.
Hebrews 11:1

It was not because we have not that right, but to give you in our conduct an example to imitate.

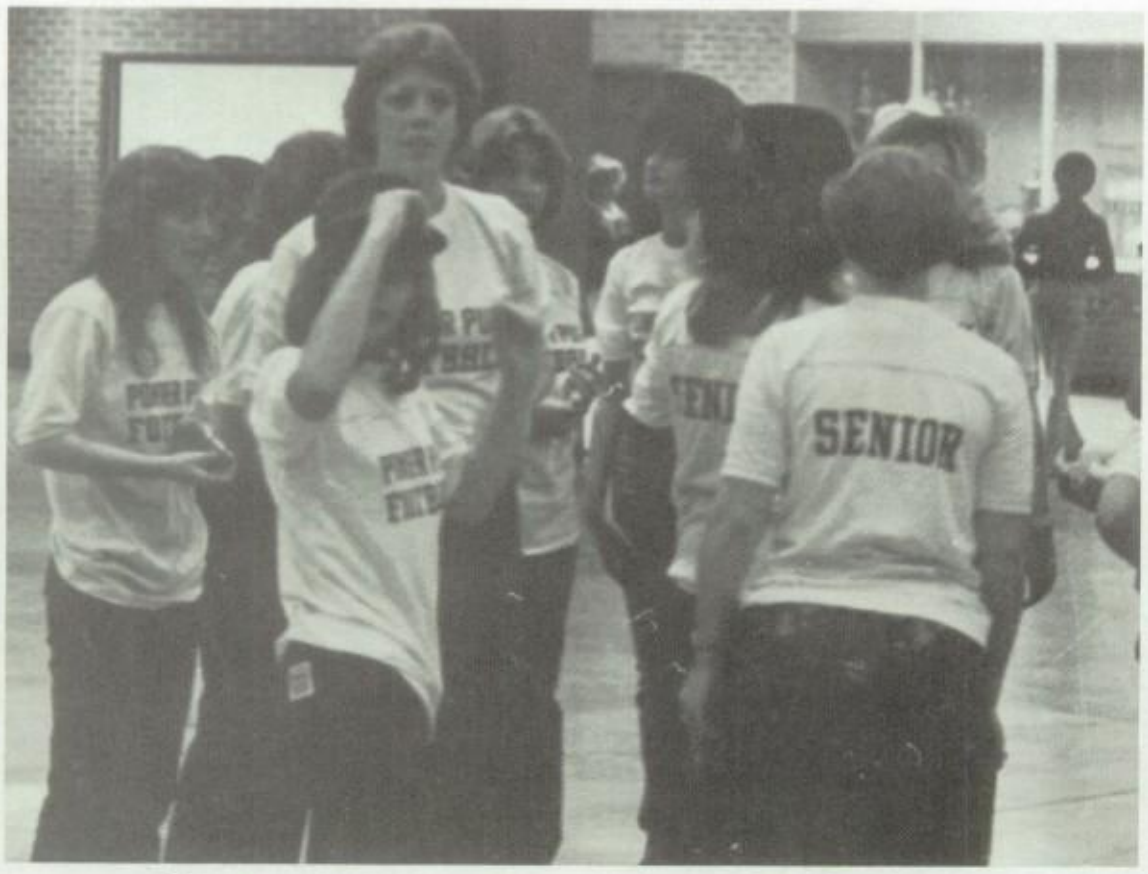
2 Thessalonians 3:9

Let us run with patience the race that is set before us.

Hebrews 12:1

I am with you always, even to the end of the world.

Matthew 28:20



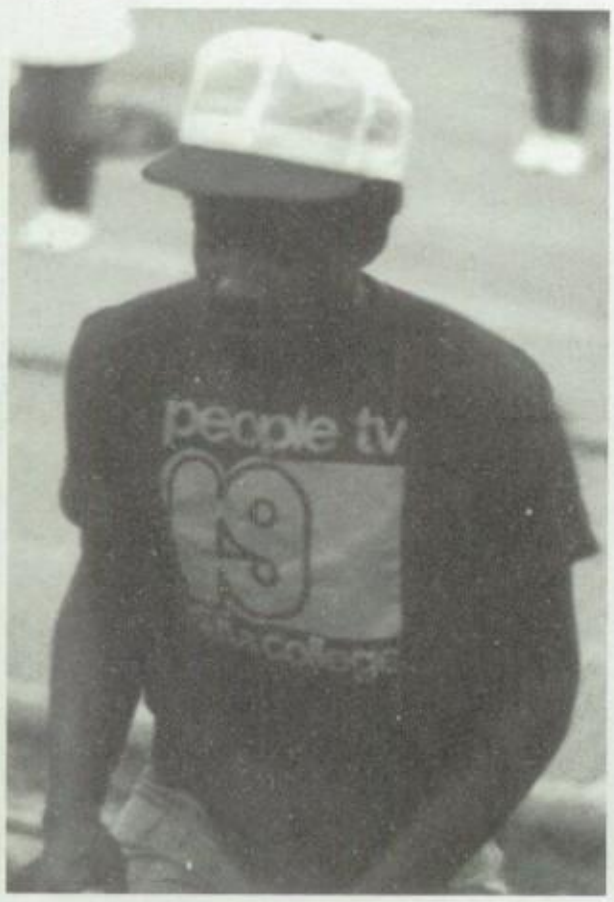
An idealist believes the short run doesn't count. A cynic believes the long run doesn't matter. A realist believes that what is done or left undone in the short run determines the long run.

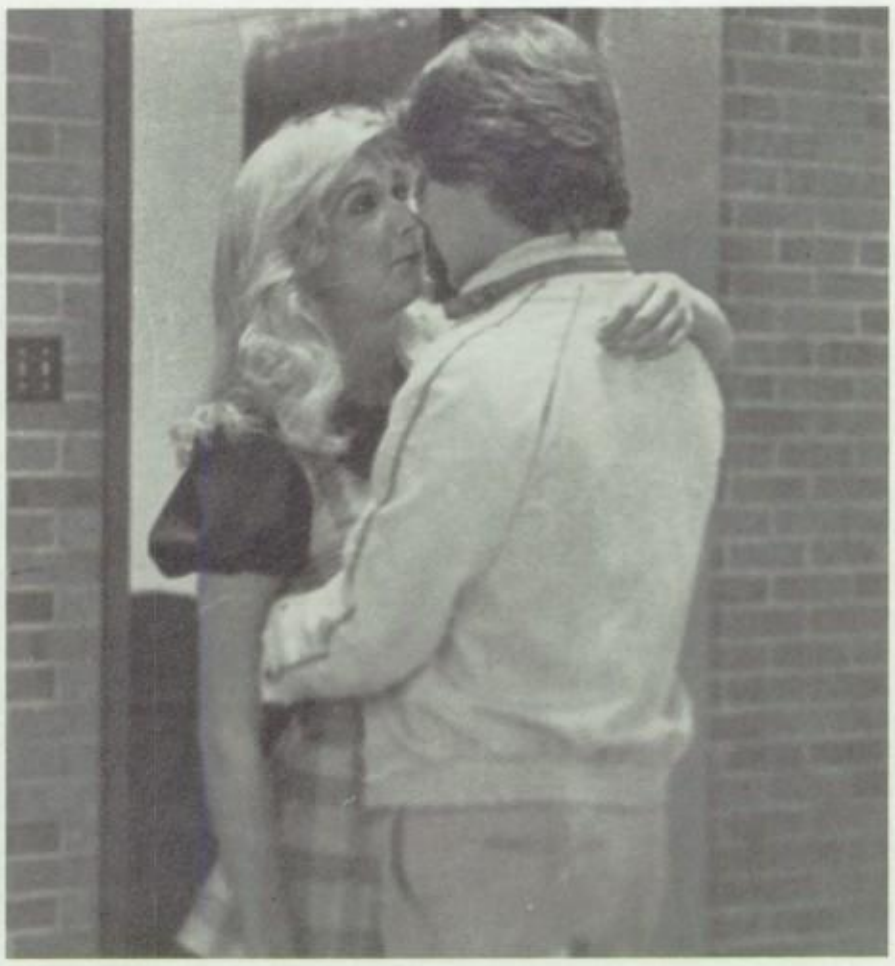
- Sydney J. Harris

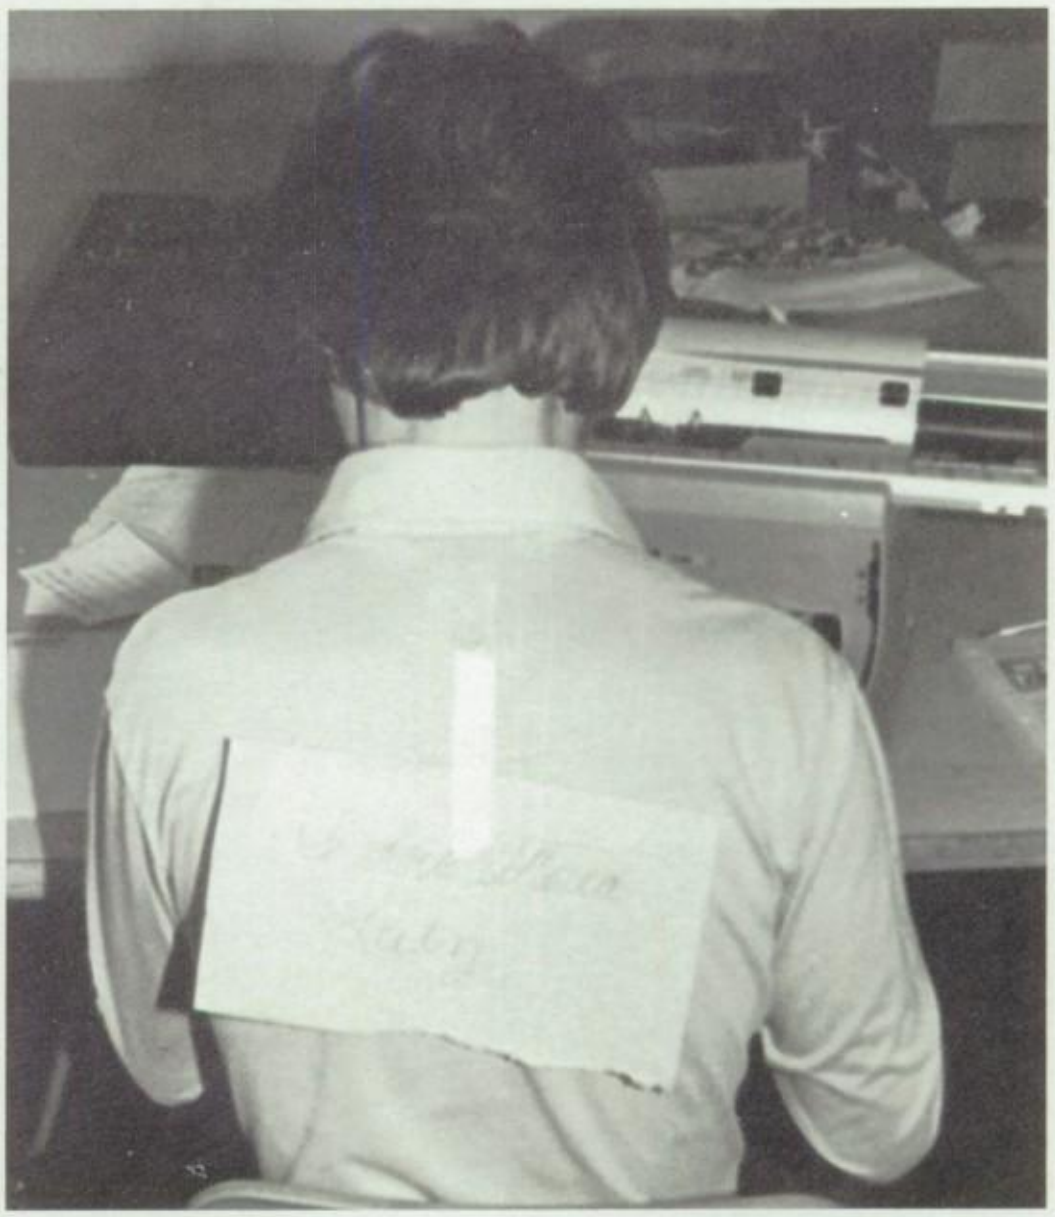
Reputation is what folks think you are. Personality is what you seem to be. Character is what you really are.

Have two goals: Wisdom - that is, knowing and doing right - and Common sense. Don't let them slip away.

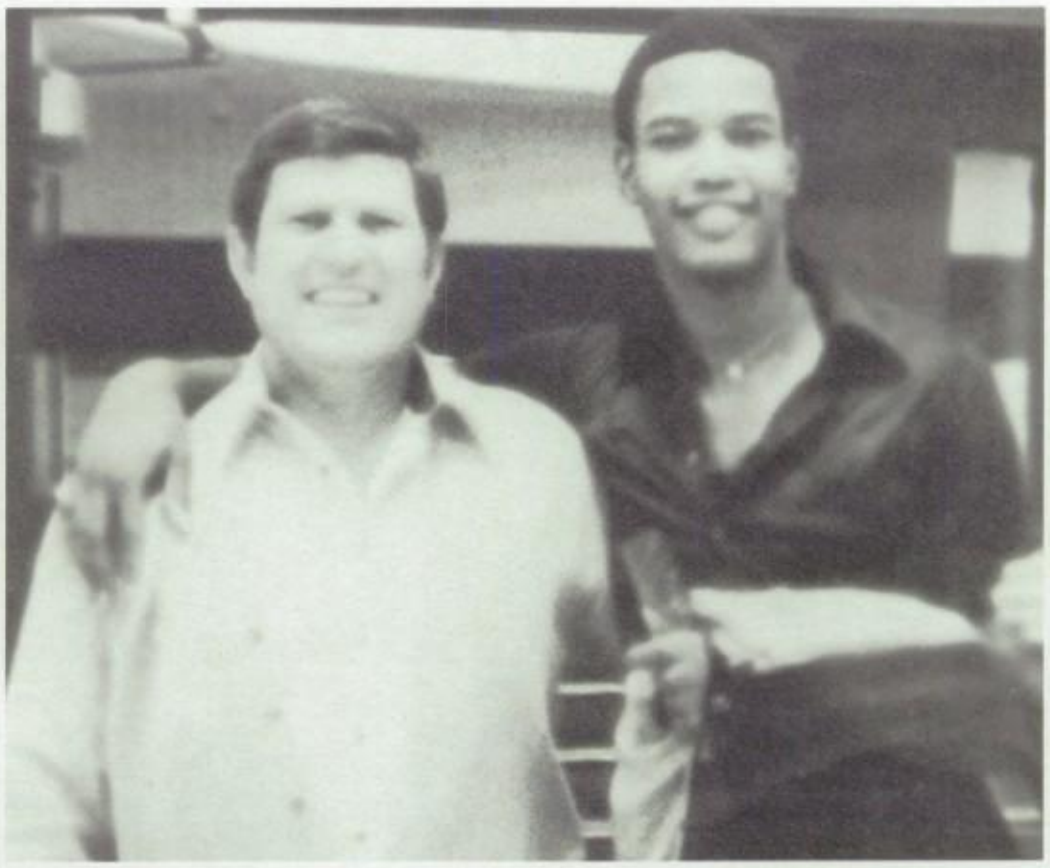
Proverbs 3:21







But where there is an open mind,
there will always be a frontier.
-Charles Kettering



The world turns aside to let any man pass who knows where he is going.
-David Starr Jordan

I always wanted to be somebody. If I made it, it's half because I was game enough to take a lot of punishment along the way, and half because there were a lot of people who cared enough to help me.

-Althea Gibson

A time to cry, and a time to grieve, and a time to dance.

Ecclesiastes 3:4

Have you entered into the treasures of the snow.

Job 38:22

SENIOR

SENIORITIS IS:

Filling up your schedule with home ec classes.

Breaking out in hives over your SAT scores.

Having to listen to prospective employers drone on about the decadence of youth.

Trying to memorize your social security number.

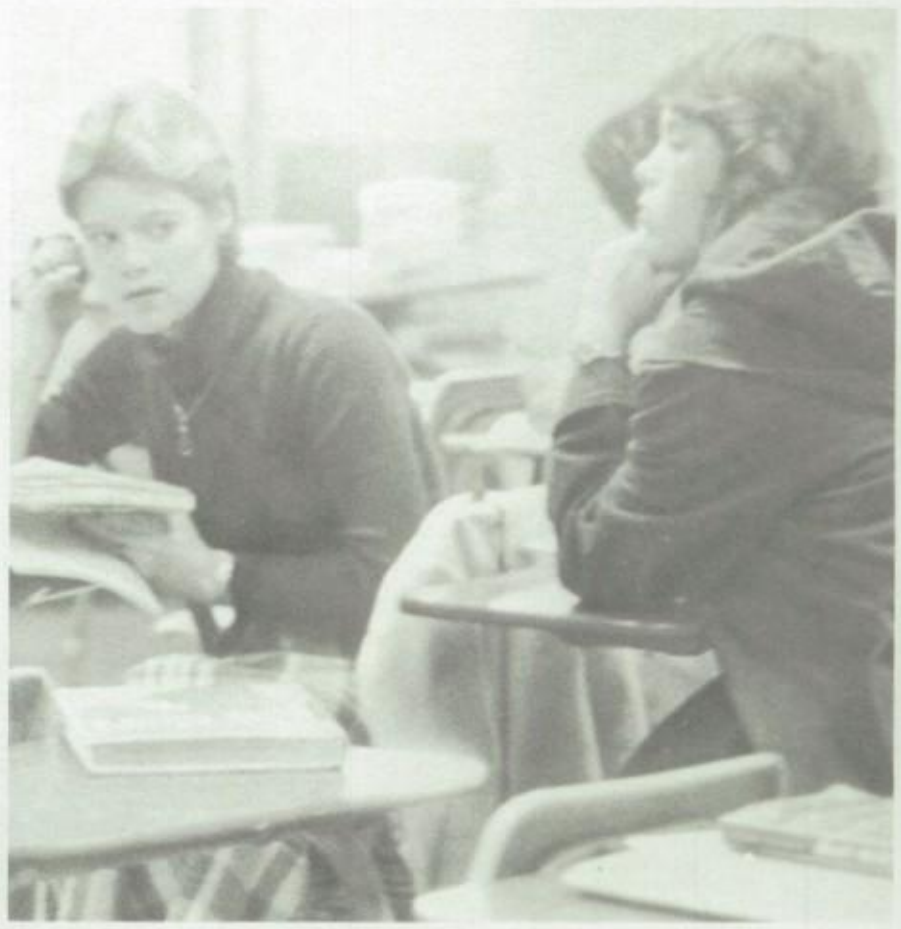
Getting the uncontrollable urge to see what the vice-principal's office looks like.

Sending out graduation announcements to great-aunts and other relatives you've never even met (and hoping for presents).

Wearing a graduation gown that drags on the floor because the class secretary put you down as six foot two.

Standing on the threshold of adulthood - and not at all sure you want to be there/

-Mary Catherine Wilds.



To laugh often and much; to win respect of intelligent people and the affection of children; to earn the appreciation of honest critics and endure the betrayal of false friends; to appreciate beauty; to find the best in others; to leave the world a bit better, whether by a healthy child, a garden patch or a redeemed social condition; to know even one life has breathed easier because you lived. This is to have succeeded.

-Harry Emerson Fosdick.

The 1980 Moore High Saga Staff was switched to a new publisher - Walsworth and a new photographer - Prestiege this year. Despite numerous and seemingly insurmountable problems, the Saga Staff has held together and has succeeded in finishing an annual! Seriously folks, we were a young staff without previous experience, except for our advisor Gary Watson and Editor Becki Walden. The whole staff has worked hard in creating a new and exciting annual that will please everyone. You may note a few new section titles, such as Student Life, Athletics, Graduates, and Undergraduates. We have tried a variety of photo layouts and subjects, as well as bringing back a few oldies like the Hall of Presidents. All section Editors have also tried to run the continuous theme of Thoroughbreds. The Saga Staff has had a good time compiling this years annual and we hope you enjoy it!!

Photographers: Paula Elliot, David Mosely, Paul Nadeau, Mike King, Robert Cox.

Section Editors and Staff

Athletics: Debbie Willis, Editor-Stephanie Gassman.

Organizations & Artist: Sarah Wright.

Student Life: Mark Beard, Pam McElvaney, Editor-Mark Colledge.

Faculty: Editor-David Triplett, Muriel Hickmen.

Undergraduates: Gloria Lutz, Pam Clements.

Junior High: Editor - Sheila Gabehart, Mary Kyer, Julie Schiess.

What did you say the theme was? Whose idea was that?
D. G. who? . . . K. D. said what to who?
D-76 and Mello Yello-Yum Yum.
Photographers lost what? Again? . . . Underclassmen over and over.
THAT on the cover? . . . Impatient editors.
Gloria loves who this week? . . . "I get the typewriter!"
Where's the job stamp - the cropper - grease pencils - rulers - typo book etc. etc?

The new Moore High Drill Corps was selected in April of '79. The corps practice consistently during the summer and school year months. The corps has sold donuts and frisbees to raise money for their new uniforms and the banquet which is held at the end of the year. During the course of the year, the corps had a "Good Luck" party for the football team, and a Christmas party in which they exchanged gifts. The corps march at Football games, Basketball games, and pep rallies to show their support for the school and the teams. The 1978-79 Fillies took first place in the Jefferson County Drill Team Competition (JCDTC) and this years team hopes to repeat this accomplishment.

The 1979 Moore Mustang Football "Family" had the best season in the history of the school, earning a 6-4 record. Although the team just barely missed going to the play-offs and being state champions, several members were selected for all-state honorable mention and several other members received various outstanding awards and recognition.

Highlighting the season were the Southern game, the Stuart "Parent-Senior" game, and the Homecoming game against Valley. There were outstanding plays made by Donnie Steffan, Bill Wyatt, Rick Juarez, Jimbo Hubbs, Scott Patterson, and Todd Jefferies during the 46-14 win over Southern. The "Parent-Senior" game was memorable to all partly due to the pounding 28-13 victory over Stuart and partly due to the touching display of sentiment shown by the seniors during halftime. During the fast-moving Homecoming game, the mighty Mustangs held the Valley Vickings to 24 total yards in offense in the first half of play. The defense of Alan Nevitt, David Broderick, Scotty Howard, and Mike Hobson was given most of the credit for this victory as the "Family" stomped pass Valley for a shut-out score of 22-0.

The contributing factors in the success of the 1979 Mustangs were the senior players' leadership, the teamwork displayed by all the players, and the outstanding coaching of a great coaching staff headed by Coach Ted Leasor.

The 1979-80 Moore Mustang Basketball team had a very successful season. Rated in the top 10 throughout the season in both the AP & the Litkenhouse Polls, the team has lived up to everyone's expectations. The season included impressive victories in the Kentucky Classic, the Fayette County Invitational, and the L. I. T. Other notable victories consisted of an 81-47 point win over Male in the Homecoming game and an 83-71 point win over arch-rival Ballard.

The team featured 3 players with over 1000 total career points each. These players are: Manual Forrest, Ronnie Wilson, and Niles Dockery. In addition, the teamwork of the rest of the team contributed greatly to the entire season's success. The coaching staff, headed by Coach Finnegan, was also a very positive aspect which contributed to the over-all success of the 1979-80 Moore Mustang Basketball Team.

The 1979-80 Boys' and Girls' Gymnastics teams gained an asset this year . . . a new coach. Mr. Joe Ott took over the coaching of the gymnastics teams this year from last years' coach, Mr. Gene Carroll. Relatively new at coaching, Mr. Ott has adapted very well to this new experience. He has helped members of both the boys' and the girls' teams gain individual victories.

Getting a Kick out of Soccer

The 1979 soccer team finished their season with a 6-5-1 regular season record. The tournament record was 0-3 with 2 overtime losses in the MOORE MUSTANG CLASSIC INVITATIONAL TOURNAMENT. The team captains, Eric Konerman and Brad Piatek, contributed much to the team's success. Eric was elected to the All-State team with John Carr receiving a honorable mention.

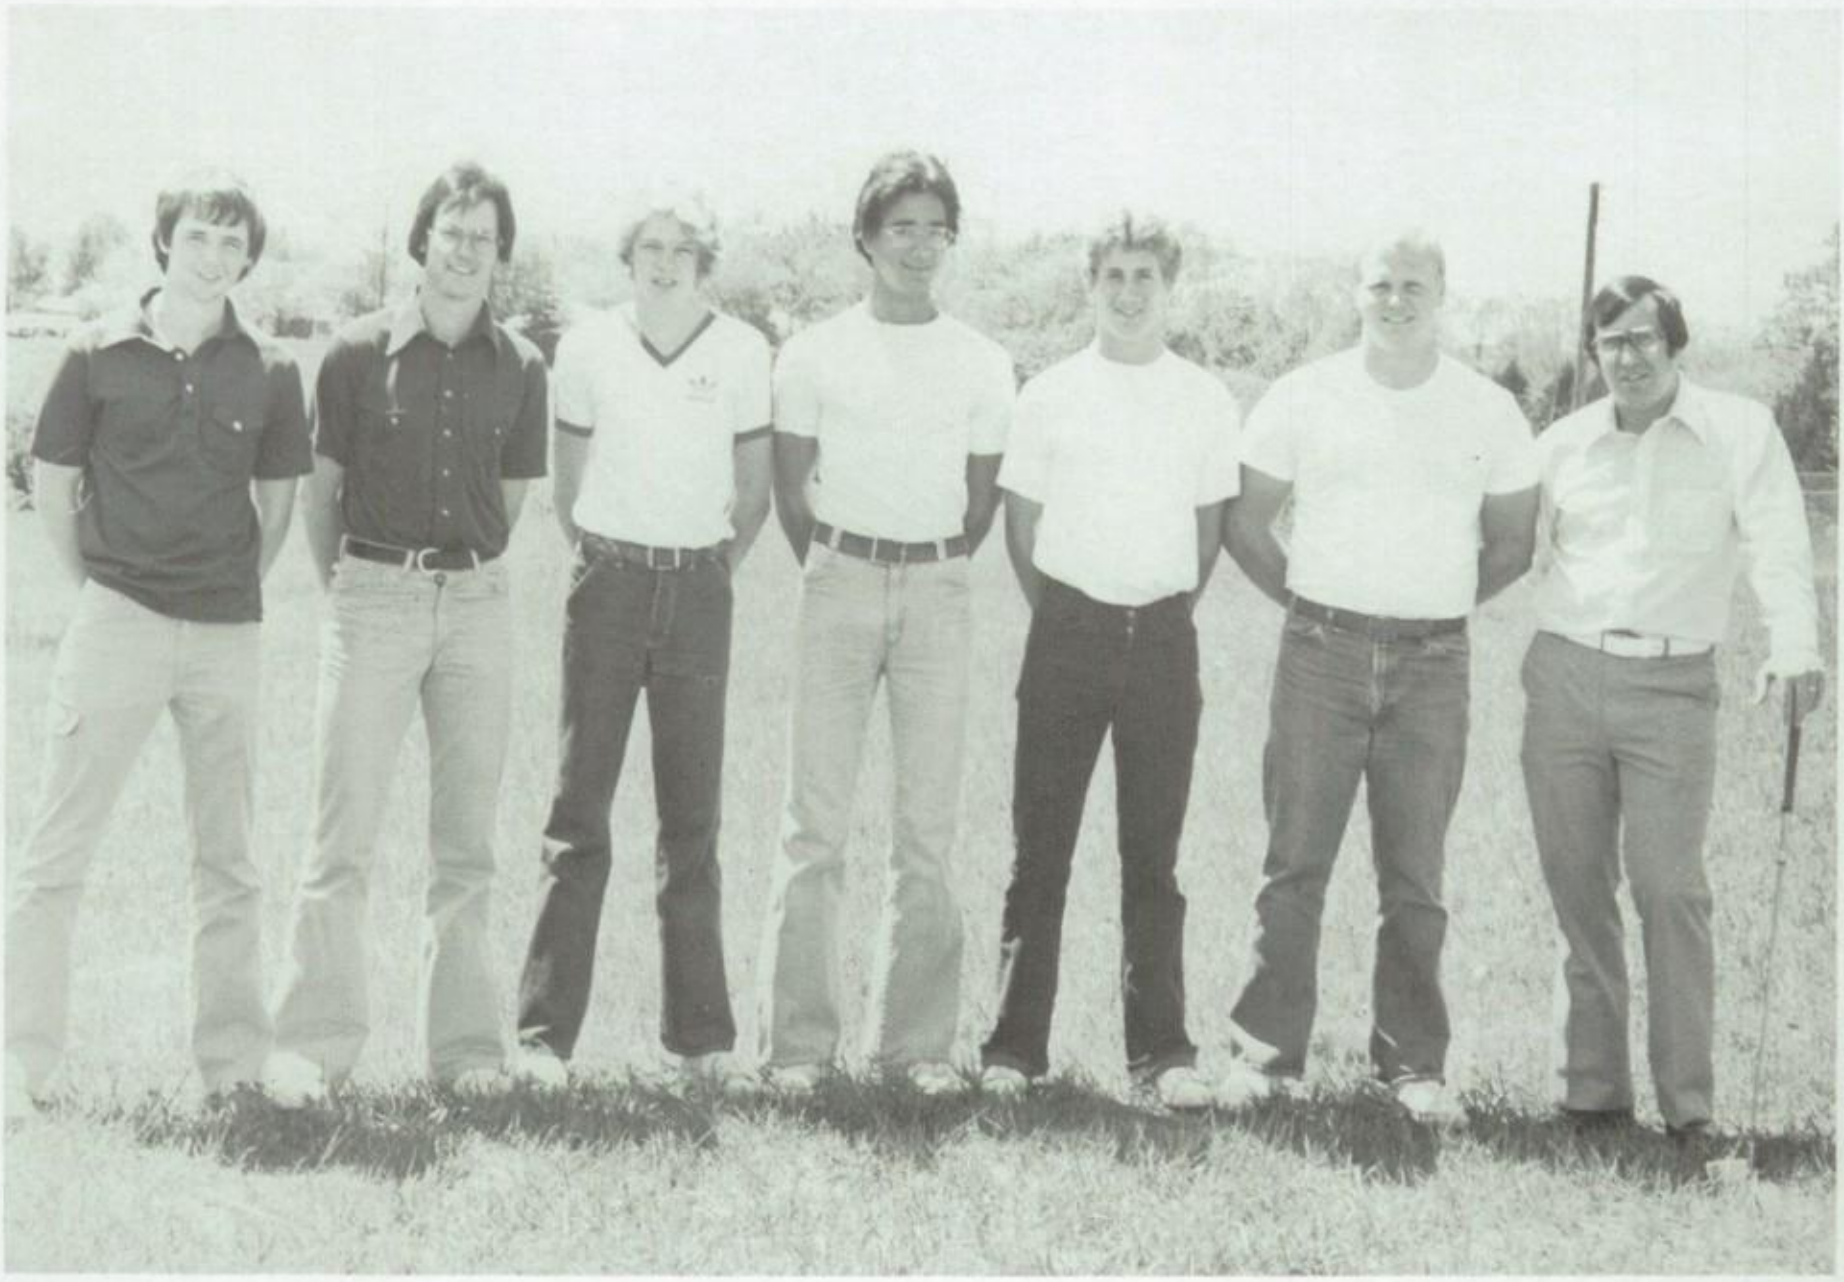
Golf Team Tees Off To Win



Sammy Smith, Ronny Nall, Brent Curd, Danny Baker, Jimbo Hubbs, Kevin Barger, Coach Ackerman

The golf team of 1979 composed a record of 24 wins and 3 losses and gained a seventh place finish in the west region. The team also participated in the Dixie Invitational which consisted of several of the state's top teams. This was an outstanding accomplishment since the team only consisted of one senior, two juniors, two sophomores, and one freshman. Jim Hubbs finished third in the West Region and thus qualified for the state tournament. With the nucleus of the team returning in 1980, the Moore golfers hope to capture the West Region.

STUDENT LIFE

INSIDE OUT, UPSIDE DOWN!

Senior Powder Puff Football Team

The Powder Puff Football game was the most unusual event to take place in the 79-80 school year. It is not often that the sexes change roles to this extreme, one does not often see Junior and Senior girls playing football, nor will one often see Junior and Senior boys being the cheerleaders.

This game brought back to Moore the old Junior Senior rivalry that seemed to have been lost at Moore for the past few years. This proved to the administration that class competition can take place without any major incidents.

A special thanks to all of the people who made this event possible!

Director, Gary Keehner

The Senior Class would like to thank the following sponsors for their cooperation and help in producing WESTERN WONDERS for the 1979 Football Homecoming: B. Wilson, D. Southerland, J. Ott, C. Neumayor, V. Knuckles, D. Ballard, B. Murphy, and D. Stivers. We would also like to extend gratitude to the Drill Corp., the Marching Band, the Cheerleaders, and the people who worked on the floats. The Senior Class would also like to thank TYLER for an excellent performance at the Dance.

Special recognition should be given to the Senior Class for placing first in the hall decorations and to the Junior Class for placing first in the float competition.

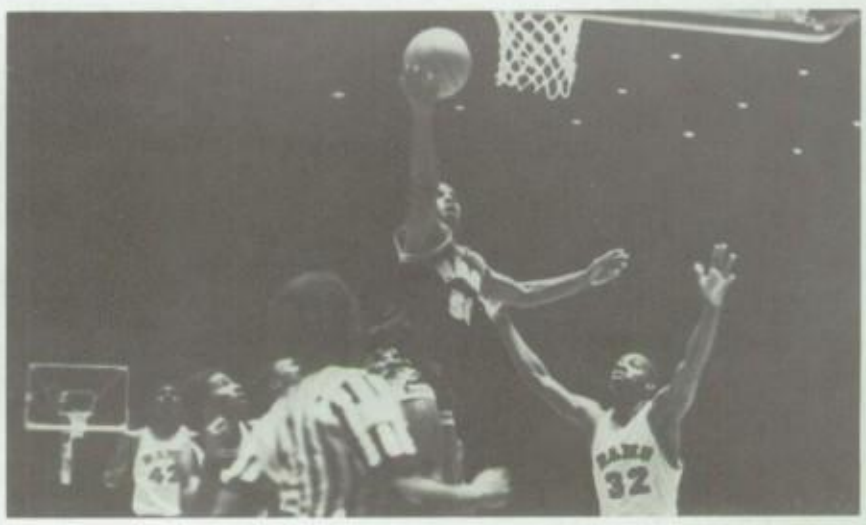
Last Minute Instructions.



Up Up And Away!

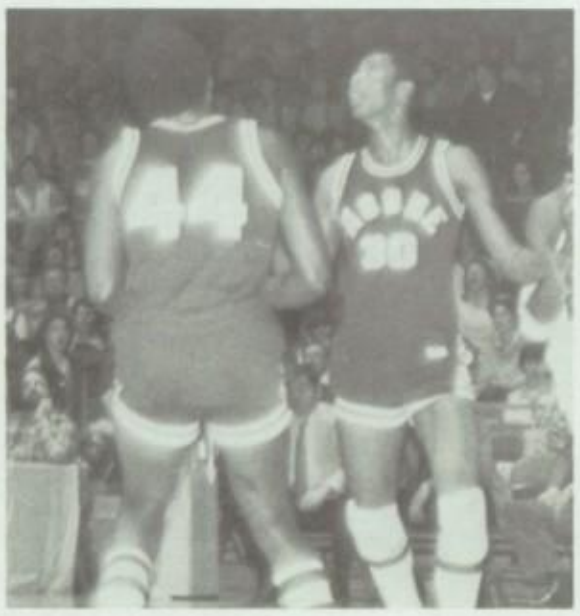
Where is the *!#? ball?

On December 7, 1979 Moore High school played Birmingham Carver. This game proved to be very exciting. Moore was behind 13 points at half-time but then recovered with an amazing victory of 79 to 71. Sporting events promote unity and school spirit. Moore's basketball team and spirit is number one in the county, maybe number one in the state.

A VICTORY AT THE L.I.T.!

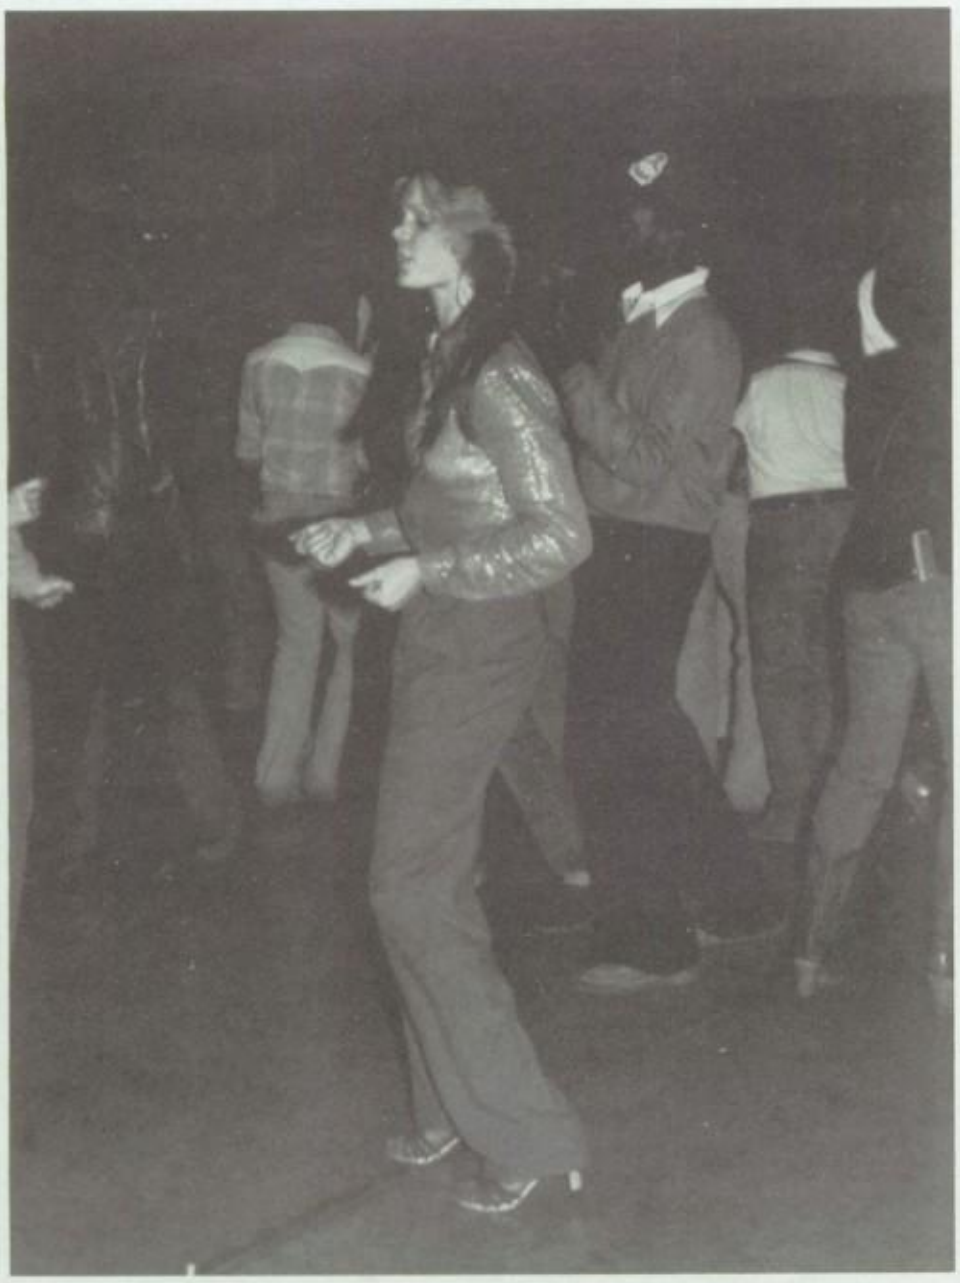
The final game of the Louisville Invitational Tournament (L.I.T.) - which was held on Saturday February 19, 1980 - proved to be the most exciting basketball game in the history of Moore High School, thus far, with the Mustangs gaining a 82-68 win over Owensboro. This was the first victory at the L.I.T. for Moore and it also established Moore as number one in the Litkenhouse Poll.

The crowd of several thousand were in full spirit and Louisville Gardens roared with the sound of cheering fans. At the end of the game, the large crowd chanted "SAVE OUR SCHOOL!" "SAVE OUR SCHOOL!", in protest to the proposed closing of Moore.



The Infatuation Of

The World's Greatest Lovers



The theme of the 1980 Basketball Homecoming was "The World's Greatest Lovers". The theme was appropriate, because the date of the dance coincided with the week of St. Valentine's day.

The highlight of the Homecoming week was, of course, the dance. Many people did not know how the student body would react, because this was the first time the dance was "disco". The dance received a large attendance and everyone enjoyed themselves.

Superiority Dominates!

From the beginning to the end, always #1!

The Moore Band once again established itself as the best band in Jefferson County and one of the best in the state. The band owes its success to the hard work, dedication, and superior attitude of its members. The Senior Class, perhaps the best ever, helped lead the band thru the competitive season with its creativity, desire, and exemplary attitude. For the first time since 1972, the Moore Band won not one but two sweepstakes awards, placed second three times, and placed first eight times. Congratulations for a job well done!

Our Band clearly shows it superiority.

Tina adds a touch of charisma.

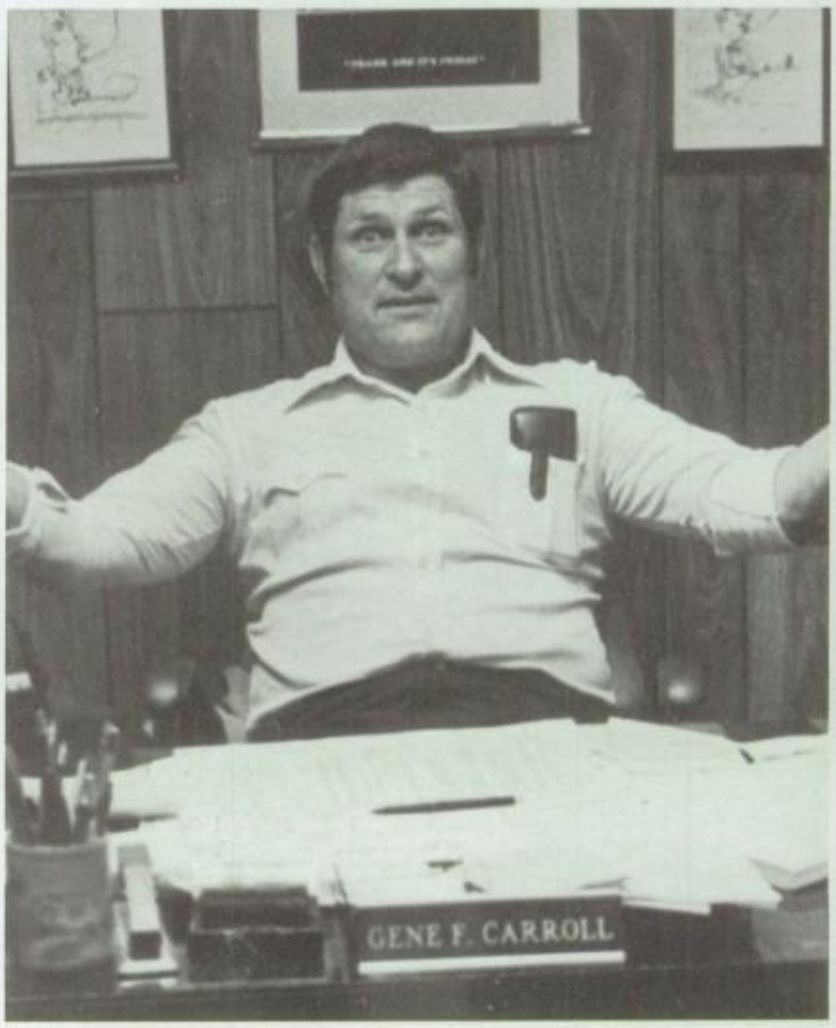
THE ONES WHO RUN THE SHOW



The 1979-80 school year found our teachers involved in many and varied activities.

In the upper right is Mrs. Brady reading of the newest adventures of Captain Video.

And lastly, at the lower left we have a picture of a birthday party given for Mrs. Gerstle by her ever-studious sixth period Chem II class.

The man standing next to this paragraph is Bill Reeves. I think he's afraid to look over here and see what has been written about him.

Moore Fights To Stay Alive

Members of a feisty, overflow crowd used poems, songs, signs — even adult humor — in an effort last night to convince Jefferson County school officials to keep Moore High School and two other high schools open.

The last in a series of eight public hearings on possible school closings began with the national anthem and the pledge of allegiance to the flag. It quickly escalated into an emotion-charged meeting in which school officials' statistics and intentions came under fire.

One speaker, whose name could not be learned, said high school students can identify with the hostage situation in Iran. "We're hostages of the school board with our hands tied behind our backs," said one parent.

A task force headed by David DeRuzzo, chief deputy superintendent, has made tentative recommendations in a building-use plan that could mean the closing of three high schools because of declining enrollment.

They are: Moore, 6415 Outer Loop; Doss, 7601 St. Andrews Church Road; and Waggener, 330 S. Hubbards Lane.

Under the option favored by the task force, two middle schools would be housed in each of the closed buildings. Under another option, a middle and a high school would operate at each of the three sites.

Several speakers said the middle school-high school option might be the least disruptive.

Speaker after speaker — about 90 signed up — said officials were on the wrong track in trying to eliminate the three high schools.

Vernon Knuckles, a Moore teacher, said it would be "a grave mistake to close down Moore." Knuckles then proceeded to quote a 24-line poem, "It Couldn't Be Done," to underscore his point that a way can be found to save the school.

Student Jeanna Cunningham and five friends got their message across in song. It will probably never record a gold record but the song was a hit with last night's crowd. "Don't take away our Moore High School," the lyrics said. "It's the only school we got. It's our piece of the rock."

Greg Charles, a Moore graduate, questioned the official statistics on middle school students. He said school officials are making room "for an average of 2,664 students who do not exist."

WAKY disc jockey Bill Bailey, a resident of the Highview area, said Moore may be more than the best high school in the county. "There's a possibility that Moore High School is the finest high school in Kentucky," he declared.

Officials also received a letter from Marion C. Moore, for whom the school was named. Mrs. Moore taught English and served the Jefferson County school system for 46 years.

"I shall continue to hope with you that the Jefferson County Board of Education will find other solutions to the existing problems and that alternate plans may be devised whereby the Marion C. Moore Senior High School may continue its educational ministry in this community," the letter said.

One speaker suggested that officials are playing a shell game by recommending the closing of the three high schools in hopes that the public will favor Option 1, middle schools and high schools on the same campus. But DeRuzzo denied that, saying that officials still have an open mind about the closings.

"Our job now is to find one (a plan) that is acceptable and that you will help us implement," DeRuzzo told the audience.

Bob DePrez, a leader of the National Association of Neighborhood Schools, accused officials of another snow job and of lying to the public through statistics. "Stop lying to the community," DePrez said. "People are not that dumb that they can't read statistics."

DePrez said busing to achieve racial desegregation is causing the decline in student enrollment. He said the birth rate has little to do with Jefferson County having fewer students in public schools.

Republican State Rep. Harold Haering, one of several elected officials to speak, said he has received several telephone calls and letters about the proposed closings and said he will tell the state superintendent of schools and the governor about his concern on the issue.

"Please hear our cry. Please hear our prayer. Please hear our plea," Haering said.

One speaker, alluding to the school officals' desire to serve the community, related a Will Rogers tale about what really happens when a milk cow is serviced by a bull. He said he hopes that isn't what school officials have in mind.

Several school board members were among the crowd of several thousand, which overflowed into the gym's lobby.

Moore Battles For

A week of protests

A pep rally that afternoon, originally planned to celebrate the victory of Moore's basketball team in the LIT, turned into a rally for the school itself. Students waved posters reading "Save Our School" and chanted "We won't go. We won't go."

Tuesday morning, virtually all of Moore's 1800 student body staged a sit-in protest in the school's central hall. They stayed out of classes from 9:30 to noon.

The next day, a group of students staged a rally at the VanHoose Center, headquarters for the school system.

Students demonstrate to protest plans to close Moore High School, convert building to middle school

As a result of the protests, school officials agreed to meet with student leaders on Thursday to discuss the matter. Students met for 1½ to 2 hours with Deputy Superintendents David DeRuzzo and Dawson Orman, and Robert Wynkoop, an assistant to DeRuzzo.

The week ended with a march late Friday morning by several hundred Moore students from Bashford Manor Mall to the VanHoose Center and back. Students left school early with permission slips from their parents. They had obtained a parade permit and were escorted by county police.

As I walk down the busy halls of Moore, I cannot help to be proud of all that Moore has achieved in the past year. Moore High School has continuously proven that the Mustang spirit cannot be trampled nor can the Mustang pride be buried. We have striven together for a common goal. Just as the horseshoe symbolizes luck and success, we too, as Mustangs, have been lucky and successful in obtaining our goals. We have made new friends and we have become a closly knit family. We have learned what it means to stand up for what is right. Together we have built confidence in ourselves, our friends, and our teachers.

At the start of a new decade, the class of 1980 will be graduating. As graduates we will be pioneers facing a new beginning, branching out in all directions, and following our dreams into the horizons of the future. Even though the class of '80 will graduate, we will leave behind all the treasures of Moore High School to future graduates. Hopefully they, too, will smooth the path for others who will pass in the same fashion.

As the editor of the 1980 SAGA I hope that we have captured some of the memories you want to cherish, and that we have absorbed the yesterdays you wish to remember.

As the seniors leave the security of Moore High School, I'd like to offer all the luck that the thoroughbred's horseshoe holds. May you succeed in everything you endeavor and one day may we all meet again.

May God Bless the Graduates and Moore High School.

Vicki,
I'm really glad I met you & wish we could have become better friends. Remember all the crazy times
in Murphy class.
Stay the way you are
and life will be great for you. Good luck
with that special person in your life. Remember me always. Love, Kelly '80
